

How much energy
do you use at home?

Now you have online access to energy-use data for your home. You can graph up to three years of data. If your home has been heated with gas for at least one year, you can calculate your home's heating rating. Visit mge.com and look for View My Energy Use.

