

Madison Gas and Electric Community Services

As your community energy company, MGE offers many services to help you save energy and improve your neighborhood. Please contact us to find out how we can work with your group.

Community Energy Projects

MGE funds energy-efficiency improvements and education for innovative neighborhood and community projects.

Community Pages

MGE sponsors a Web site which offers a free Web presence for nonprofit groups.

Environmental Action Teams (EnAct)

MGE cosponsors EnAct, which organizes Environmental Action Teams in neighborhoods, community organizations and workplaces. Participants learn how to minimize the environmental impact of their households.

Green Buildings

MGE is an industry leader with Green Built Homes and helped to develop the Wisconsin ENERGY STAR® Homes Program. We promote energy efficiency and green building techniques to local builders, remodelers and homeowners.

Library Partnerships

MGE's ongoing partnership with local public libraries provides energy information resources such as books, videos and portable energy meters to libraries. The partnership also features energy information presentations, events and displays for adults and children.

Neighborhood Newsletter Articles

MGE provides articles to newsletter editors on energy issues affecting neighborhoods and neighborhood residents. The articles help newsletter readers improve their comfort, safety and home energy efficiency.

Affordable Housing Partnerships

MGE provides design assistance and energy-efficiency advice for businesses and organizations that develop affordable housing. We offer training for staff and new residents about conservation practices that will make homes more affordable to live in. Some projects may qualify for funding.

Community Workshops

Workshops teach neighborhood residents about saving energy and making their homes more comfortable. Energy-efficiency products and bill payment options are highlighted.

Small Business Seminars

Local small business owners receive training from business experts to help them improve their services, products and profits.

Speakers for Clubs or Groups

MGE speakers give presentations to local groups on many topics including safety, energy efficiency and economic development.
