This past year was a stellar one in space exploration.

Can you create stories of things we learned about outer space that can help the earth?

Many discoveries of our space programs become new technologies or make us aware of the earth's properties and changes.

Have students research space explorations and the impact on the earth.

Act out stories and what ifs?

Could there be life on other planets?

What kind of pictures did we take of things in the solar system?

Pick an animal and discuss their evolution and extinction dangers.
